4. SCRATCH N' SPLIF AIR FRESHENER

Just as it sounds, this is a pot-leaf shaped air freshener, meant to hang around your rearview mirror and reek like the sticky icy. This product is the closest to actually smelling like real ganja than any other I've experienced. SKLOW HQ has never smelled skunkies. Why would you want your car to stink like you've set up a Sea of Green system in your glove box? Because of this. 'No offense. I'm not in possession of any cannabis; that's my air freshener.' $3.99USD

5. VAPE-A-HOOKAH

There are a bazillion vaporizers out nowadays, but unfortunately, there isn't a huge variety of no-plug vapes. So Vape-A-Hookah got old skool on our asses and paired what is already a beloved smoking device for many a culture, with a simple glass thingamabob that transforms it into a vaporizer. You put the herb in the hole, put the lit charcoal on top with the metal basket and bubble away as normal. A healthier option for any mushroom-lounging caterpillar, to be sure. $20-25USD

6. LARAMIE CIGARETTES SCALE

Okay, it's not a "scale". It's a "RYO (Roll Your Own) Assistor", but it does help you weigh stuff (up to 500g) and does so in tenths of grams, ounces, troy ounces and pennyweight. There's an easy to use "RYO Assistor Chart" that gives you the correct weight of "tobacco" it takes to roll the perfect joi-i mean "cigarette," using a single wide, one-and-a-quarter or king size paper. Laramie...Laramie...where have I heard that name before? Doh! It's the fictional cigarette brand featured on The Simpsons.

7. PURPLE KUSH HERBAL COGNAC BLUNT WRAPS

Now, I can't claim to be any sort of expert on blunts. In fact, the tobacco usually makes me a little queasy. But these things are pretty darn good! They taste and smell quite alluring; a little like Jagermeister, which translates well into a blunt. The cigarillo is loosely wrapped for easy disassembly and re-assembly with an extra thin wrapper and a natural leaf binder. To put it bluntly: these wraps are the shimt.
